
FICTION FIDDLERS

With Jenny

This is a group for either the new enthusiast or someone who has been enjoying the pleasure of writing for some time. A 'prompt' for a story, poem or piece of prose is agreed upon and participants are tasked to write using that prompt.

The group meets on the last Thursday of each month and all participants share their work by reading it to the group. At the end of the session, a mutually agreed prompt is declared for the following month.

Come along to this group and connect with others who share the enjoyment of writing.

NON FICTION WRITERS

The non-fiction writing group also meets on the last Thursday of each month. Characters, settings and events must conform to what is true. Share your stories, enthusiasm and learning with others.

PROSE & POETRY WRITING

This is a group of well-established writers who have been sharing their passion for writing for many years.

Everyone meets on the last Thursday of each month to write and critique member's poetry and fiction with a view to publication in 'The Portal', the PNH writers' magazine. A waiting list applies.

MAIN STREET WRITERS

Main Street Writers meet on the second Sunday of the month. Please enquire at the office.
